futori®

for now, for tomorrow, for the future

Once in a while, a functional object transforms itself – and the experience it provides – into something that little bit special. Beautifully designed, built to last, with exceptional performance, futori is for now, tomorrow and the future.

A woman with dark hair is shown in profile, smiling and enjoying a shower. She is holding a sleek, silver handheld showerhead in her right hand, which is spraying water onto her face and neck. The background is white, and there are many water droplets in the air, creating a sense of freshness and movement. The overall mood is one of relaxation and pleasure.

With its sophisticated cool-meets-classic looks, futori was always going to turn heads. But this shower is about so much more than style. Versatile, practical and with a thoughtful attention to detail, futori elevates the showering experience to another level altogether.

can you have it all? yes – it's a futori

An effortless fusion of style and luxury, futori has been designed to exceed every expectation. A perfect combination of the highest quality finish and thermostatic technology, delivering perfect temperatures and flow. Enjoy the peace of mind that the maximum temperature override button brings, offering reassurance and family safety.

Superior in every way, from its sophisticated, yet practical swan neck shower arm, designed to fit even smaller enclosures, to the contemporary ultra slim hand shower with smooth, easy to clean chrome hose. futori's fluid, seamless design just can't fail to please.

a great shower, from any angle

Enjoy that waterfall feeling with the generous coverage provided by futori's drencher style shower head. Or, for an equally exhilarating shower, use the sleek hand shower – a fully height adjustable alternative shower head.

With futori's discreet, integrated diverter, switch instantly between shower heads – choose the drencher head for a luxurious all-over shower. And, for days when you don't want to get your hair wet, simply move it to one side and use the versatile, hand shower, which is also ideal for rinsing away soap and suds to leave a sparkling clean enclosure. The choice – and experience – is entirely yours.
